Tell me that I'm wonderful
I'm full of wonder as to why.
And when the sun is full,
I still see violent skies.

I don't know why you don't see that I don't know if I could be that for you, deserve more
that is true

You tell me the truth but I don't believe you
I must be a million things but only one to you.
I love when you love me back
this white flag's been a'wavin don't let me paint it black.
It's the reason I run from my worries
when I caught up to her and she told me her story.

You tell me that I'm invincible but I've lost my fair share of fights.
When you need me most I'll just leave you out of spite.

I don't know why you don't see that I don't know if I could be that
for you, deserve more
that is true

You tell me the truth but I don't believe you

I must be a million things but only one to you.
I love when you love me back
this white flag's been a'wavin don't let me paint it black.
It's the reason I run from my worries
when I caught up to her and she told me, she told me...

Conditions are wrong will you agree not all things are destined to be look at me, I'm afraid.
There's a light and dark in all I've seen and you fall somewhere in between this nightmare and my favorite dream.

You tell me the truth but I don't believe you
I must be a million things but only one to you.
I love when you love me back
this white flag's been a'wavin don't let me paint it black.
It's the reason I run from my worries
when I caught up to her and she told me her story.
