Find yourself today girl and fade away
from the old, if they only knew.
Realize I'm not who you thought I was that's because I was lost in Berlin.

Write me a letter, the heartaches are better than being alone my dear Evelyn Rose.
Write me a letter, the heartaches are better
than being alone from you.

The night the bells rang and I could not return.
Tonight the bells rang and I will not return.

Where have you gone and when will you come back for me? It's been three long years of waiting my love.
It's getting old and harder to believe any longer the idea of it all.
I'll send you a story full of all of my glory,
being at war and breaking the shores.
I'll send you a story full of all of my glory
gloriously alone.
and breaking

The night the bells rang and I could not return.
Tonight the bells rang and I will not return.

I hoped this year would bring better times,
loving a good woman and building a life.
But the sun is too weak to ever warm the earth again
and Orion will stand on guard on the western horizon.

The night the bells rang and I could not return.
Tonight the bells rang and I will not return.
