Loving is exactly what I'd find
Looking down the road of another life
I never really meant to leave your side
Looking down the road of another life

I don't know what is left inside of our lives
No don't walk away
Tell me all the steps I need to take
No don't walk away
I know what a fool I've been acclaiming a mess of me

When I felt the child inside me shot his eyes
Looking down the road of another life
When I never thought that our love would die
Looking down the road of another life

And I don't know what is left inside our lives
I don't know if you take me back this time

No don't walk away
Tell me all the steps I need to take
No don't walk away
I know what a fool I've been acclaiming a mess of me

No
Noone ever really knows
Noone never learns to live alone
They just get tired
And our hearts get cold

I never really knew just what I'd find
Looking down the road of another life
