You were a gift to me
I received it graciously

And I looked to the sky and prayed
Can you help me guide her way

There's so much I could give But, The best comes deep within

And I looked to the sky and prayed
Can you help and guide our way

Girl, I know someday you will fly, but I'll never let you fly away. Because to my heart you're always chained, yes to my heart your always chained.

The years go by so fast
Hey never seem to last.

Still I look to the sky and pray.
Can you help and guide her way

Girl, I know someday you will fly, but I'll never let you
fly away. Because to my heart you're always chained,
yes to my heart your always chained.

There are so many things in this life; I want to share with you. Your hopes and dreams will be yours, but there's one thing that will hold true...

You were a gift to me,
I received it graciously.

And I looked to the sky and prayed,
Can you help me guide her way

Girl, I know someday you will fly, but I'll never let you
fly away. Because to my heart you're always chained,
yes to my heart your always chained.
And girl, I know you will fly so high, and through all the dreams and plans you make, to my heart you're always chained...

It was sealed with a pray that I made.
