Talk of crime in the cities
The writings on the wall Another Hollywood Break-up Like that affects us all

And they sell their gossip rags by the millions, as a terrorist fires on children in a schoolhouse!

Yeah, they're looking to every face to take your place,
and once they got you sold,
Then they're giving to every smile, vicarious fame,
fame at a price Calling out to the faithful and the minions, Welcome to my Psychopathic Opinions!

Another limousine liberal, says I gotta conserve
As he flies his Learjet
All across this Earth!

And the world spins around like a phonograph,
As the politicians cash their kickbacks!

Yeah, they're looking to every face to take your place,
And once they got your vote, then they're giving to every smile, the chance to play,
play on your dime,
Don't you think it's time for an Evolution; I'm call for a Psychopathic Revolution!

(Solo)

And it's politics as usual on the Beltway,

As a media mogul signs on his new face!

Yeah they're looking to every face to take your place, and once they got your soul, then they're giving to every smile, the chance to numb your brain for a while, I'm not calling for an modern day inquisition, I'm calling for conscience Exorcism!

Yeah, they're looking to every face to take your place, once your bought and sold, the they're giving to every smile the chance at fame, fame for a price, Do that maybe they have used you, to push their Psychopathic Issues!

Yeah, they're looking to very face to take your place, and then once your sold, Then they're giving to every smile, vicarious fame, fame at a price, calling out to the Land of Confusion, come join the Psychopathic Revolution!

Every face, every race, all across this human place, you better stand up right now, and get yourself counted.

Liberals, conservatives, democrats, republicans, better stand up right now, you better find your common ground.
