You were a young girl, fresh to the city, always wanted
real love, nothing cold and empty,
He stoked the flame in you, and turned a spark to fire,
Never heard when your mama said, loves not the same as desire.

When he said, that he really cared about you, then you thought that he really cared about you,
And you dreamed, that he really cared about you, but I know, he could live his life without you.

Thief of hearts, what you gonna do when he tears your heart apart, Cause he's wanted dead or alive for the
hearts he's scarred.
And then one day you will find that you can't deny all
the things inside for the thief of hearts.

No inhibitions and he's got no past, Always in hurry,
Should you ever ask.
He'll put his spell on you, until you've lost control,
Never heard when your girlfriend said, better leave that man alone.

When he said, that he really cared about you, then you
thought that he really cared about you,
And you dreamed, that he really cared about you, but I know, he could live his life without you.
Thief of hearts, what you gonna do when he tears your heart apart, Cause he's wanted dead or alive for the
hearts he's scarred.
And then one day you will find that you can't deny all
the things inside for the thief of hearts.

(Yeah baby) You've got feelings, you've got dream so real, take the rose colored glasses of to reveal.

Back in the city, where it all began, got a new direction,
got a change of plans.
He put his heat on you then left you out in the cold,
better hear when your daddy says,
Baby girl come back home.

When he said, that he really cared about you, then you
thought that he really cared about you,
And you dreamed, that he really cared about you, but I know, he could live his life without you.

Thief of hearts, what you gonna do when he tears your heart apart, Cause he's wanted dead or alive for the
hearts he's scarred.
And then one day you will find that you can't deny all
the things inside for the thief of hearts.
