Album: 1985 (2003)

I can't believe that your wasting your time
Thought you could find your way back
You heard my story but heard it all wrong
Nothing...

Well it's just so little
And I can see through you
We know it will end
This distance is secret
it's seeping out my skin yeah

I was over it before
But you brought me back to were I began
And Im starting well again
And I'll make you run to the end

I can't believe your wasting my time
Honestly Ive heard it all
Bringing out your colors of natural glow
Cuz I have once know that I'm yours

Cuz it's just so little
And I can see through you
We know it will end
This distance is secret
it's seeping out my skin, yeah

I was over it before
But you brought me back to were I began
And Im starting well again
And I'll make you run to the end

And I can't believe it anyway
Wen our differences are the same
Your not listening anyway
It's over...

And I can't believe it anyway
Wen our differences r the same
Ur not listening anyway
it's over...

I was over it before
But you brought me back to were I began
And Im starting well again
And I'll make you run to the end

I was over it before
But you brought me back to were I began
And Im starting well again
And I'll make you run to the end
