I wake up every morning and I take a deep breath
I'm another day older and closer to death
I'm searching for a secret to see what life's all about
But I'm fighting against the clock and my time's running out
I want to find the truth, I don't have enough time to try
Only one thing is certain, I have time enough to die Time's my only enemy and time's what it's all about Time is all I have and my time's running out Time laughs while I struggle and time laughs while I bleed
Time's almost up now and time's all I need
All our time's running out but we still try and pretend
But this road we're all going down is just a dead end
Time's catching up and there's no running away
Time is going to chase me until my dying day
I want to fight time but I don't know where to begin
Because life is just a game that only time will win
