She moves and the wind kisses her hair
She dances around in public
She don't care Let them stare
She's always chasing butterflies
She likes to imagine the clouds are watching out for her
And maybe she's right
Who am I to decide?
Maybe we'll fly to the morning light

And when she kisses me
She says love has filled the air with red balloons
The world is shrinking, there is no one else
And God is in the room
And when she looks at me
She says a hundred million fireworks explode
And I believe in you my love
And your imaginary world

She makes up movies in her head
And she thinks that every day is Saturday That's ok
Maybe shes right
Who am I to decide?
Magical feeling inside when she's by my side

And when she kisses me
She says love has filled the air with red balloons
The world is shrinking, there is no one else
And God is in the room
And when she looks at me
She says a hundred million fireworks explode
And I believe in you my love
And your imaginary world
Your imaginary world

And maybe that kinda love
Can make you whole again, imaginary girl
And maybe that kinda faith and make believe again
Can make a broken heart never feel broke again
In your imaginary world
And when she kisses me
She says love has filled the air with red balloons

The world is shrinking, there is no one else
And God is in the room
And when she looks at me
She says a hundred million fireworks explode
And I believe in you my love
And your imaginary world

And when she kisses me
She says love has filled the air with red balloons
My imaginary girl
The world is shrinking, there is no one else
And God is in the room
Feels like God is in the room
And when she looks at me
She says a hundred million fireworks explode

Maybe I wanna live there too,
In you imaginary, imaginary world
And I believe in you my love
With my imaginary girl

Maybe that kinda love can make you whole again,
ohhhh
Maybe that kinda faith and make believe again
In you imaginary world
Maybe that kinda love can make you whole again
Your my imaginary girl
Oh oh
ah ah
Maybe that kinda faith and make believe again
It feels like God is in the room
Imaginary, Imaginary girl
My imaginary girl
Ohhh ohhh~!....
My imaginary girl
