You got God if you payed for it
You got sex if you pray for it
And those ever elusive
Weapons of mass destruction

You got Jesus with a paler skin
You had Lennon but you wasted him
I got sleeping pills
That'll make you wanna call your mama

'Cause everyone's keeping their love far away
Everyone's keeping their love far away
Keeping their love far away
Everyone's keeping their love far away

You got phones with 3D eyes
And you're lonely but you don't know why
Somebody just killed a man
And I forgot to moisturize

You got AIDS in Africa
You got Paris in a new sports bra
You got therapists
To justify your behavior

And everyone's keeping their love far away
Everyone's keeping their love far away
Now everyone is keeping their love far away
Keeping their love far away

And I love your company
So full of generosity
I had something else to say but it must have slipped my mind
It must have slipped my mind

So write another love song
And pretend that nothing's wrong
And if a feeling comes
Just call me in the morning

And everyone's keeping their love far away

Everyone's keeping their love far away
Keeping their love far away
Keeping their love so far away

Keeping their love far away
Keeping their love far away
Keeping their love far away
Keeping their love far away

Keeping their love far away
Keeping their love far away
Keeping their love far away
Keeping their love far away
