This time I'll try to love again
I'll never lose you my friend
I'll be there till the end
Forever

This time I'll take the happy pill
Chew off more than I can spill
Play until you stay forever

But nobody said it would be easy now
We live in a lucky town
But the foundations are shaking
The bridges are breaking in two
But nobody said it would be easy now
I don't want to let you down
But my heart is alright, it's alright
Cuz it's burning for you
And it burns right through

This time I'll try to make believe
Wear my heart upon my sleeve
Just take it when you leave
It's better
This time I'll be the better man
I know the world understand
Cuz greatness is overrated
You'll see

But nobody said it would be easy now
We live in a lucky town
But the foundations are shaking
The bridges are breaking in two
And nobody said it would be easy now

I don't want to let you down
But my heart is alright, it's alright
Cuz it's burning for you

Well this time I'll try to love again
This time I'll never lose you my friend
I'll stay until the end
For ever and ever and ever more

But nobody said it would be easy now
We live in a lucky town
But the foundations are shaking
The bridges are breaking in two
But nobody said it would be easy now
I don't want to let you down
But my heart is alight, it's alright
Cuz it's burning for you

But nobody said it would be easy now
We live in a lucky town
But my heart is on fire
The bridges are burning for you
But nobody said it would be easy now
I don't want to let you down
But my heart is alight, it's alright
Cuz it's burning for you

But nobody said it would be easy now
We live in a lucky town
