From the top of a church on a hill,
To the tip of a dragonfly wing.
From the shine off the hood of a cab.
To a shimmering diamond within on a ring
That was worn through two world wars.
From a smile that soars through its old and worn
And two blue eyes forever seeming cold.

(Chorus)

The sun is always blinding me with her light
The Day is always hiding behind the night
And one day everybody will be alright
Go on blinding me with her light

From the glare of a red traffic light.
To the blur of a bicycle wheel
From the flare of a camera lens
To a fluorescent light that ignites and displays
Someone leaving a goodbye note
From a pen made of steel and the reflection of hope.
And to some words to stir an aching soul.
The sun is always blinding me with her light
The Day is always hiding behind the night
And one day everybody will be alright
Go on blinding me with her light from a fire that burns in the darkest well of a cave so enslaved
I can hear her yell
I can tell this bird just wants to be free.

So set her free

And if this world should ever leave you cold.

The sun is always blinding me with her light
The Day is always hiding behind the night
And one day everybody will be alright
Go on blinding me with her light

It's going to be alright
