

S.T.U.N. "Love & Chaos"

We hope that you stay
You'll have to be an individual
We're going to throw the rulebook away
Gonna stand up for ourselves
Before the chance goes away
Tired of payin' our way
For someone else's mistakes
Trying to get through the day

Chaos and love are taking over the world

Everybody has a message to send
The end of all this is repetition
Won't hide what I wrote and read
Will not keep it in a briefcase, find it in 2010
When everyone's the same

Walking around like the living dead
Like the living dead
Like the living dead
Like the living dead

Chaos and love are taking over the world

Everybody has a message to send
The end of all this is repetition

My heart aches for the thoughts you think
Only you think
Only you think
My heart aches for the sound you make
Only you make
Only you make
Chaos and love are taking over
Until no one is looked over again
