"Love... Hate"

In a world so big and cold
You seem so all alone
Then someone enters your life
And makes it all seem right
Sometimes things do change
Love turns to bitter rage
And you say "Never again"
But emotions always mend
It's the root of all disharmony
But it's the need to feel complete
It's a physical attraction
A chemical reaction
A walking contradiction
A push, pull affliction
It's a love...hate relationship
You can see it in our band
We're all so different
Every solution we come to
Starts with an argument
But through adversity
The music's in our heart
We'll stay together
You can't tear us apart
It's the root of all disharmony
But it's the need to feel complete
It's a physical attraction
A chemical reaction
A walking contradiction
A push, pull affliction
It's a love...hate relationship
Love...hate is it one in the same
I can't differentiate between
Love and hate
Love...hate is it one in the same
I can't differentiate between
Love and hate
I hate to love, I love to hate you
Love and hate is it one in the same
Love...hate
We always take for granted
The one's that love

We think they'll always be there
And we treat them as such
But if we really make an effort
To show them that we care
Our love will shine through
And the hate will disappear
It's the root of all disharmony
A chemical reaction
