Oh, love, I am under the colored sky
All my pride just fades away
It turns around and looks inside of me
Its vision goes far than places I can find

No one is there to heal me
A lament and its part
In a sense of suffering
The despair of figuring I am!

Existence goes on
Can't take this blinding sun
(Chorus)
Keep my heart hollowed
With the brightening shadows

All this black makes me clever than ever
Although the loneliness isn't forgiveness

For the guilty that I stand
Intimacy: the way for the pain
Lighting the hate all over me
To burn without moving a string.
