Lyrics : Constantine

Skin

Try to touch some skin
You're in my head
This is where the end begins
Thoughts are all you've said

Think too hard
And real, real loud
The mind will do you in
Free the hand that takes action
With some real-time initiative

Laying down no one wins

So I'm gonna love you instead

Tap then drain
All the heart that's left in my veins
Stew and waste about
What my great men meant
When they say
Give it away give it a day

So I'm gonna love you instead
