

The Age Of Rockets

"And Their Eulogies Sang Me To Sleep"

Visit "And Their Eulogies Sang Me To Sleep" on MotoLyrics.com

All I heard was the sound of fish who'd drowned.
All I saw was the inside of my eyelids.
All I said fell short of reaching open ears.

Words floating, clouding the view...
'See no, hear no, speak no evil' leaves you deaf, dumb
and blind,
Because the bad is all you'll find.
A deeply heart-felt goodbye to the part of me that died
When I decided to put others before me,
Yes, my heart fell asleep - boredom and fatigue.
I always said I wanted to die smiling,
To pretend I'm at peace.
Now from my corpse beams a frigid, blank grin
And once hopeful eyes are sunken in.

Like a lullaby to the cradle is the eulogy to the casket.
All my flaws swept under the table
To grieve the porcelain doll that was me.

Their solemn songs sang me to sleep as my body escaped me.

Such a shameful masquerade!
Fleeting, frozen minutes on display.
Why is evolution such a shameful thing to say?
Can you feel your bodily decay?

Because I can sure as hell feel my brain going blank.
If my body betrays me, there's pollution to thank.
This condition infects my cells like it controls my mind.
Internal army, defend me behind enemy lines!
Fragile vehicle of mine! Don't abandon me yet!
There is so much to live for that we so easily forget.

Fascination with the fear... The concept escapes me.
All encompassing fate...
How it wrenches our hearts, torments our souls
And sings us all to sleep to an eternal keep,
No matter what beliefs, it sweetly sings us all...

Visit The Age Of Rockets page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.