Open up your eyes let the morning come sneaking through your window
I know, that sunlight comes to those who wait Someday soon, the day will break for our heartbeats
And the white sand will beg to share our feet

You can be my Florida Sunshine if you melt away this ice
That's been holding on, holding on, to my heart this whole time
Take a breath of ocean air and let the water cool our toes
I know, I know, we'll be together soon

Oh girl you know this might be our only catch 'Cause I'm tired of these sleepless nights, without your sweet kiss
So take these sunny days and golden rays, and melt this cold away
'Cause I don't know if I can go on, without you in my arms

You're twelve days away, twelve hundred miles out of reach
And I can't complain, 'cause soon I'll kiss your lips so sweet
You're twelve days away, twelve hundred miles out of
reach
And I can't wait, to see the sun rise on your face

You can be my Florida Sunshine if you melt away this
ice
Take a breath of ocean air as the waves crash over us You know the summer winds have spoken, and the autumn came to fast Oh the winter it's still frozen, but the spring was made to last
