

Saimons "Hope-lit Path"

Visit "Hope-lit Path" on MotoLyrics.com

One moment we all walk down her shore.
Sees no difference between those soldier boys.
She keeps our candle lit
And puts us on our feet.

A confort that drifts our pain to space.
The last thing we loose before we fade.
Makes reason leap to dreams,
Feel closer than they seem.

Maybe you're looking for something
That doesn't meet the eye.
Deeper I know you believe it.
You've got to face these times.

She is in a needed change.
A time to rearrange.
Makes reason leap to dreams,
Feel closer than they seem.

Maybe you're looking for something
That doesn't meet the eye.
Deeper I know you believe it.
You've got to face these times.
May be you're looking for something
That doesn't meet the eye.
Cause shadows are made
By sunlight rays, they say.

She's leaning beside the world tonight
Or shining above the sunless sky.
Reflected upon those dampen eyes.
Seconds away from darkening times.
Is hidden behind the brake of dawn.
And glowing across a "no man's land".
When seeking the fire for the cure.
Keep holding on until the storm is through.

Visit Saimons page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

