The love has gone, the love has gone baby,
The love has gone, the love has gone baby,

I didn't get it when he hung up the phone
He say that he's all alone and that's when I heard her moan, I get it
It's not a secret that he's working till late, but then he doesn't come home
And now he's switched off his phone, I get it

Tell me something baby, tell me this ain't true
Tell me something baby, tell me this ain't true
I won't be crying for you €; no more, baby!

The love is gone (Where is the love), that took me high
Now you're gonna love me boy, you've wasted my time
It's breaking my heart, you know this ain't fair
I deserve better, but you don't even care

I'm taking back my, my heart from his hands
He's got another lovin' so I'm taking a stand
I've stand and watched our, our love drift away
I've looked into his eyes and he had nothing to say

Tell me something baby, tell me this ain't true
Tell me something baby, tell me this ain't true
I won't be crying for you, no more, baby!

The love is gone (Where is the love), that took me high
Now you're gonna love me boy, you've wasted my time
It's breaking my heart, you know this ain't fair
I deserve better, but you don't even care

You had me baby and now we're through You've been messin' with my heart and yes you know it's true
I won't sit here waiting, while you're out of town
Just look into my eyes and ask me something to say
I won't be crying for you no more, baby!

The love is gone (Where is the love), that took me high

Now you're gonna love me boy, you've wasted my time
It's breaking my heart, you know this ain't fair
I deserve better, but you don't even care

The love is gone
I won't be crying for you no more.
