I said there's something in the way you move that makes me think that I'm in love with you

There's something in the way you move, that makes me think I hate myself

I said there's something in the way you move that makes me think

I think that I am falling, falling back again

And I'm falling/out of time

Time out of sight/it's out of mind

I look for the courage/I can't find

Then she walks up and she says

Dance with me

I think there's something in the way you're cool that makes me sweat

I think I'm breaking up inside

I think there's something in the way you're cool that melts me

I think I fall apart

I think there's something in the way you're cruel that makes me think

I think that I'd come crawling, crawling back again

Time out of sight/it's out of mind

I look for the courage/I can't find

Dance with me
