Drink nothing with out seeing it; sign nothing without reading it

Eat something get ugly with it. chose nothing without thinking it

Say something with out meaning it. love nothing without feeling it

You always make me so down and drown and don't waste all my time

Tell me when you can't denied you lied you do you make me blue

City heights oh wreck it my you can see it on balcony
Promise land golden land there is more up when you make money

Slowly grows follows by much proof this feelings strong up and up and down

Hysterical wait for miracle you sentimental please don't beg for love

Think less like always before your smile like nothing no more

When I look into your eyes I dig down to get more sparks

Show me some love I misguide surrender when I survive

I will not drifting away I think it's not what you say

Drink nothing with out seeing it; sign nothing without reading it
