I used to love those long walks when all the world was right
Promise of forever was written in those summer nights
And I had no reason to think you would ever leave
And girl I wasn't the only one to believe

Cause even the wind thought you loved me
Tell me why else would it call out your name
You fooled the moon and the stars above me
So why should I take all of the blame
For what my heart's been going through
When even the wind thought you loved me too

Last night down at Billy's I ran into an old friend
He bought me a drink or three asked me how I'd been
Said he couldn't believe that you were still around
I just shook my head and said man join the crowd

Cause even the wind thought you loved me...

Well here come the clouds baby here comes the rain
Don't they know it's just a little too late

Cause even the wind thought you loved me...
