I was sittin' at the bar countin' my sears and tellin' everybody around
When it comes to love ol' lady luck is always a lettin' me down
I just got through explaining how I was never gonna fall again
But no sooner had the words left my lips I looked up and you were walkin' in And they all started laughing the second that hardwood floor hit my chin

Girl you made me a liar liar my heart's on fire one look at you started a flame You got me rethinking maybe I's a little hasty might oughta try love again
The moment I said never you walked in the room And made me a liar liar my heart's on fire and it's burning up for you [steel]
Well I swallowed my pride and told 'em that I just might of spoke too soon Said everybody knows an old dance floor is the place to heal old wounds
All ya'll know that it ain't healthy for a man to hold a grudge
As a matter of fact the more I look back I can't blame it all on love
I don't know what I was thinking when I sat there and I said I'd had enough

Girl you made me a liar liar...
[fiddle - guitar]
The moment I said never you walked in the room
Made me a liar liar my heart's on fire and it's burning up for you Girl you made me a liar liar my heart's on fire it's burning up for you
