You have tasted the living water
And your lips are crying out from thirst
You feel older
Your view is broader
But that doesnt make you the first
To run the distance
Or the last
To follow in these steps
So you live
In sweet resistance
Suffer the innocent, suffer the innocent

Chorus:

God, save the children, from the fire
On your heart, may the power of the children or forever
fall to pieces
Singing god
Save the children, from the fire
fall to pieces

You have wakened
From restless sleeping
And the truth
Will surely make you afraid
Not alone in.....
But thats what you want it to be
To be remembered
From a time when maybe you were right
In a day of burning embers
Suffer the innocent, suffer the innocent

Repeat Chorus: (x2)

Suffer the innocent, suffer the innocent

God, save the children, from the fire
fall to pieces
Singing god

Save the children, from the fire
fall to pieces
