There goes my mind
There goes my mind
And it's the same mistake
I've made so many times
That my own mother think I'm blind
You can't be true
You can't be true
And I'm spending all my money
Making sure that things are going right for you

Starting it over
To a time when everything was alright
When everything was alright
To the time
When everything was alright
To the time
When everything was alright

You got no love
You got no love
And don't come crying home girl
When you realize you ain't got no love
I'm coming down
I'm coming down
And I'm paranoid of everything
Yeah girl you got me living underground
(Yeah you know what I'm talking about)

Starting it over
Back then when everything was alright
When everything was alright
To the time
When everything was alright
To the time
When everything was alright

When jaundice went away
In 1997
They said your liver's fine now
But you're never goin to heaven
'cause of what you've done
'cause of what you've done

I said listen son
It's 'cause of what you've done

Starting it over
Back then when everything was alright
Yeah everything was alright
Everything was alright
To the time
When everything was alright
To the time
When everything was alright
To the time
