Always felt something was missing
I was calling out your name
Hoping one day I would find you
Because I was blinded by the pain

Spent a long time waiting for me to come home
I'm gonna find my way
Such a long time waiting for me to come home
So won't you lead the way

Let me see the light
Let it shine so I may find you
Let me see the light
Let it shine for what may find you

I don't feel like I've been living
Without you
Does it feel like I've been living?

I've known you've always been beside me
I feel your presence everywhere
Took some time for me to listen
But now I am ready to begin

Spent a long time waiting for me to come home
I'm gonna find my way
Such a long time waiting for me to come home
So won't you lead the way

Let me see the light
Let it shine so I may find you
Let me see the light
Let it shine for what may find you
I don't feel like I've been living
Without you
Does it feel like I've been living?
Without you

I'm gonna find a way
So won't you lead the way

Living living living . . .
Without you
Without you
Without you
Without you
Without you
