Tin loving disguised
Come join us on the other side
A false passion, a false cause
Does it really hurt to be ignored?

Hey, girl, I never knew

You build me up to bring me down
You build me up, yeah, so you can mess around
You build me up to bring me down
You build me up, yeah, so you can mess around

Everywhere, even your home town
Finally decides you've made a sound
They turn their head and stare at everything you got
And make you something you are not

Hey, girl, I never knew

You build me up to bring me down
You build me up, yeah, so you can mess around
You build me up to bring me down
You build me up, yeah, so you can mess around

'Cause it's all about looking, about looking good, yeah
alright
Yeah, it's all about looking, about looking good
Yeah, it's all about, all about looking good

You build me up to bring me down
You build me up so you can mess around
You build me up to bring me down
You build me up, yeah, so you can mess around

You build me up to bring me down
You build me up, yeah, so you can mess around
You build me up to bring me down
You build me up, yeah, so you can mess around

You build me up to bring me down
You build me up, yeah, so you can mess around
You build me up to bring me down

You build me up, yeah, so you can mess around
