And here I stand and wait
With you
To explain the days
You made me feel again
And you say
That it's me
Well, I already know this

Push away, Push away
All the dreams
That never made it

Well I know you never see it
You said you're always honest
You made me feel that way
You said I'm always angry
You made me see that way

The memories remain inside
They're just an empty space
Of where you used to be
I know, they can't take your fate

Well I know you never see it
You said you're always honest
You made me feel that way
You said I'm always angry
You made me see that way

Now you're gone
And now you're gone for good

Well I know you never see it
You said you're always honest
You made me feel that way
You said I'm always angry
You made me see that way
Made me see that way
Made me see that way
Made me see that way
You made me see that way
