We were pushed until we'd break
How much can we take?
I wanna disappear
But I can't find a way

I got away from this
As far as I could go
Is there something that you won't admit?
As if I didn't know
Is it everything you wanted,
Everything you thought that it could be?
How did everything you hate
Turn into something that you need?

Did you study being fake?
Oh, I really thought you cared
You only tell me things that you think
That I don't wanna hear

I got away from this
As far as I could go
Is there something that you can't accept?
That no one is in control
Is it everything you wanted
Everything you thought that it could be?
How did everything you hate
Turn into something that you need?

I don't want it from you
