A Special Place

Written by Santalina and Cozmo (Music Producer)

Oh no here we go again
Baby no please don't go there Because this falling out of your lips

Don't need a list of reasons why Just tell me what's on your mind
Or better yet, don't say anything
O God, just say it, but no lies this time

That's when he took a deep breath
And said I love you to death
But this ain't working out
I knew this was coming out

It was just a matter of when, no doubt But what I want you to know before you walk out this door

There's a special place in my heart that will never die
For all my life even after we say goodbye
There's a special place in my mind to reminisce any
time
When I miss that look that found its way into my eyes

There's a special place in my heart that will never die
For all my life even after we say goodbye
There's a special place in my mind to reminisce any
time
When I miss that look that found its way into my eyes

Ooh, we've been through this road before Never thought it would end for real Been two years, one month and a few days more Back then we were inseparable I just don't know what happened
But we can't keep fighting this so I guess the feeling is mutual
I know you know that I love you with all I got
But I wish you the very best to the last tear drop

I know in time you'll figure out what's right
But I really got to go and I want you to know
There's a special place in my heart that will never die
For all my life even after we say goodbye
There's a special place in my mind to reminisce any
time
When I miss that look that found its way into my eyes

There's a special place in my heart that will never die
For all my life even after we say goodbye
There's a special place in my mind to reminisce any
time
When I miss that look that found its way into my eyes I'm putting it away, because I know we've got to let
(So hard when we've been together for so long) I'm putting it away, because I know we've got to let
(Sometimes it's rough, but you've got to be strong)
These are the hardest times but I'm all right
These are the toughest nights but I'll survive Moving on with my life, no I won't cry
I got to do what we know it's right, It's time to say goodbye

There's a special place in my heart that will never die
(I love but we gotta leave)
For all my life even after we say goodbye (I care for you but we both now that we gotta do what's best for you and me)
There's a special place in my mind to reminisce any
time
When I miss that look that found its way into my eyes
There's a special place in my heart that will never die
For all my life even after we say goodbye
There's a special place in my mind to reminisce any
time
When I miss that look that found its way into my eyes
