I'm telling you it's over
Now there's an angel
Holding me, my way's easy

Even if you're fallen
Oh, you're struggling
There's still beauty
In what we do

So que sera?
Let's go sailing on
There's a wise man
In every fool

I say come back, come in
From the cold into the warm
I feel like fire, guiding you
Back home as darkness falls

So everyone stands in line
'Cos they wanna stay alive
To wait alone, no dog, no bone

And then you find it's over
Still it tears your heart
To slip away from the crowd

But if you have what it takes
To return to where
All the world knows your name

Then que sera?
Let's go sailing on
There's a wise man
In every fool

I say come back, come in
From the cold into the warm
I feel like fire, guiding you
Back home as darkness falls

I say come home, leave it

All behind and settle down
I feel my love, give me
What I want for all time

So que sera?
Let's go sailing on
There's a wise man
In every fool

I say come back, come in
From the cold into the warm
I feel like fire, guiding you
Back home as darkness falls

I say come home, leave it
All behind and settle down
I feel my love, give me
What I want for all time
For all time, I feel like fire
