Ow, woah, yea, ooh

In the beginning, before there was light.
Everything was darkness, with no trace of sound.
Out of nowhere, the light shined through
Bringing up some ripples, some ripples of love.

Said, I, I believe it's time, yes it is,
To love one another
I, I believe it's time, yes it is,
To love one another
We've got to love on another

God and the Devil, in the land of the sun
They were looking together for a man of compassion
Just when they thought there was no such thing,
Here come John Coltrain doing a love so brave.

I, I believe it's time, yes it is,
To love one another
I, I believe it's time, yes it is,
To love one another

Bye bye, baby, we've got to go.
I get to leave before my tears start to show.
I see the future, so clear and so bright,
Where all the children are dancing in the light

Said, I, I believe it's time, yes it is,
To love one another
I, I believe it's time, oh, we got to love one another
I believe it's time to love one another
I believe it's time to love one another
