It's true what they say
The devil's alive and well
He picked the locks and escaped the gates of Hell
It's evidence for all you feel right now
If I could beg, I'd beg that you'd somehow

Believe (2x)

Chances are, four will turn to three
That's one less than this was meant to be
The wounded heart is a sucker for a thrill
And healing now, I hope you'll somehow still

Believe (3x)

The difference between now and then
Has broken you heart like porcelain
There's hope in this as you will surely see
If you only believe

Believe (2x)

It's true what they say
The devil's alive and well
There's something else workin' here as well
There's something else workin' here as well
