Texas at twilight,
You here on my mind.
Leaving gets harder,
With the more I leave behind.

I know that I can't have you,
But I'll convince myself.

This is the hardest thing I've ever done.
Somehow saving you by movin' on.

Memphis at midnight,
These nighlights fascinate.
But cities and their skylines,
Won't keep you away.

I know I don't need you,
So I'll convince myself.

This is the hardest thing I've ever done.
Somehow saving you by movin' on.

Someone tell me I'll move on from this,
And I'll move on.
Somehow every bit of you that's still in me will all be gone.

This is the hardest thing I've ever done.
Somehow saving you by movin' on.
