

Santogold

"Finding Home"

Visit "Finding Home" on MotoLyrics.com

If only I had truthfully seen,
That night will never relive
But you and I could not go and walk away
Just close your eyes
You'll never see me crashing down
I see where we had common doubt
I'd be lonely if you weren't so proud

I have seen so many loving faces
They turn back and leave with looks of regret
The road goes and I am finding home in it

You and I should not play those games
The world is coming to an end
It's just the way I see my face
And I could never believe
(Now I can see it)
Now I see where things are turning around
And I'd be lonely if you weren't so proud

I have seen so many loving faces
They turn back and leave with looks of regret
The road goes and I am finding home in it

I saw him fly
He's never looked this way
I saw in his eyes
He's never coming down

I have seen so many loving faces
They turn back and leave with looks of regret
The road goes and I am finding home in it
The road goes and I am finding home in it
The road goes and I am finding home in it
And now you're finally home
And I am finding home in it
And now we're finally home
And I am finding home in it

