I miss the part,
When we were moving forward now,
[On our way down]
But maybe someday,
I'll be something more than love.
Just know I'll never tell.

And when you're on way down
[Through the clouds]
And you're waiting for your bodies re-entry again

We speak in different voices
When fighting with the ones we love
We speak in different voices
Why can't we say what we're thinking of?

I'm missing parts,
Now that've you've told me everything
[On our way down]
And I was Blessed
And I'd forgotten how to love.

You say you'd never tell.

And when you're on way down
[Through the clouds]
And you're waiting for your bodies re-entry again

We speak in different voices
When fighting with the ones we love
We speak in different voices
Why can't we say what we're thinking of?

Not even I will tell.

We speak in different voices
When fighting with the ones we love
We speak in different voices
Why can't we say what we're thinking of?

We speak in different voices

When fighting with the ones we love
We speak in different voices
Why can't we say what we're thinking of?

We speak in different voices
When fighting with the ones we love.

We speak in different voices,
We speak in different voices

To know they're real.
Real!
I'll never tell.
