You fall apart each time you start to say goodbye,
But there is nobody watching,
Nobody watching;
You watch your grip,
You step and slip but don't know why,
And this is just the beginning,
Just the beginning;

You had the hopes to make it last,
It's moving fast,
And now you're realizing,
Realizing;
That in the past,
The dreams you had,
Make people feel,
Like you were just reciting,
Just reciting;

Bathing in the afterglow,
A chance at luck and pride;
Where we end up,
We can never know,
And all I know is we seem to be;

Changing,
Better to turn and walk away;
Fading,
All these lights just turn to grey;
Changing,
Better turning and walk away;
But the strange thing,
Is that I don't feel a thing;

This is an act,
Stop holding back,
The things you lost,
Cannot replace what's missing,
Replace what's missing;
And from the start,
You played the part,
And now your heart's,
Become a great deception;

Bathing in the afterglow,
A chance at luck and pride;
Where we end up,
We can never know,
And all I know is we seem to be;

Changing,
Better to turn and walk away;
Fading,
All these lights just turn to grey;
Changing,
Better to turn and walk away;
But the strange thing,
Is that I don't feel a thing;

One last breath,
To say goodbye;
I tell myself,
Another lie,
Stripped of all I hold so dear,
The moment's lost,
And I am sinking down lower,
I drown myself in the water,
And I am watching,
My life pass before my eyes,
It comes as no surprise;

You fall apart and then you stop,
You fall apart and then you stop,
You fall apart and then you;
Stop;

Changing,
Better to turn and walk away;
Fading,
All these lights just turn to grey;
Now I'm changing,
Better to turn and walk away;
But the strange thing,
Is that I don't feel a thing;

You fall apart and then you stop,
You fall apart and then you stop,
You fall apart and then you;
Stop;
