take it back and rewind this tape or erase it black and you'll never think of him but we've had one chance to take back but over and over again i'll clean your wounds this time so we can rewind all
'til they're gone tonight i'll tear into another lie (to you) cause you wouldn't take me home your eyes aren't yours to be clear now cause you wouldnt take me home your right and it wasn't a mistake i never told you what you were missing and i will feel them sigh i will feel the way

to eternal sin

i never wanted to hear all the things that you told me

we are the only ones we are running from

this time it's over it's all in my head now it's over this time not coming home tonight

(just take me home)

i want to break it off we should stop cause there's nothing going on we are the only ones
