You're the king of downtown
You move around with your head in the sky
Sing to the clouds, leave the ground
Ready to fly
But you're all alone
You're all alone

I got confused, thought you loved me I don't know why
But you were just my muse Maybe someday I'll make you cry
When you're all alone
You're all alone

You're going to be hard, hard, hard pressed
Hard, hard pressed
Hard, so hard pressed
To find a woman like me

Race through the city of your secret thoughts Your darkest fears
You don't even know me, you've no idea Wait a few years
When you're all alone
You're all alone

You're going to be hard, hard pressed
Hard, hard pressed
Hard, so hard hard pressed
To find a woman like me

Search the whole wide world over
Search the whole wide world over
Go ahead you can go search the whole wide world over Just wait and see

You're going to be hard, hard pressed
Hard, hard pressed
Hard, so hard hard pressed
To find a woman like me
