

Sara Melson

"Never Been Hurt"

Visit "Never Been Hurt" on MotoLyrics.com

One day I didn't have a care
Except my picture in the mirror and the color of my hair
I sang along to records about tomorrow
Now my hands are worn, and my clothes are torn
And a lot of my dreams have been met with scorn
And i don't have too much time left to borrow

But still I'm gonna love you like I've never been hurt before
Love you like I've never been hurt before
Love you like I've never been hurt,
I'm gonna start all over and know what it's worth
Love you like I've never been hurt before

You stubborn independence
Reminds me of myself
It doesn't make a lot of sense
It isn't very good for health
I know you want to be alone
But i sure like talking on the phone
And I finally left my carry-on bag behind me

Yeah I'm gonna love you like I've never been hurt
before
Love you like I've never been hurt before
Love you like I've never been hurt
I'm gonna start all over and know what it's worth
Love you like I've never been hurt before

Visit Sara Melson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.