Ask me something easier to smile at this Look I'll give you anything, but don't ask me this Don't ask for faith, when there's no great surprise,
Don't ask for love, when I'm just now beginning
To feel it, don't know quite why,

Here comes the waves, here comes the ocean,
How to decide... what's there to risk,
Why is the core so unclear...
Practical fact, foolish emotion, terrible pride
What's there to fear, take me from here...

And I will follow anywhere, I will follow
And you will lead me there

I should resist, I should refuse you ask me
Again, see how I'm strong see how I keep my vows, Mabye I'll trip, mabye I'll lose you, what happens
Then, what happens now, just tell me how

And I will follow anywhere, I will follow

And all of the voices used to tell me to stand my ground
And all of the voices have begged me to stay
And ohh repressening tha life that I planned around Do what's expected, do what's accepted, do what your told to do
Until today, 'til today

And I will follow anywhere, I will follow
