To me you are an island
Within a sea of silence
I'm sinking in by and by
Beyond the walls of wonder
That keep our souls asunder
Innocence is not a lie
If I fall through the rain
I will crawl beneath my shame
If I sing out my pain
I will stand for all my time
To some you are a tower
A clock that strikes the hour
Who am I to disagree
The mountains in between us
Forever will divide us
But every stream goes into the sea
Your Catherine Wheel is turning
I feel its fire burning
Love is not very far
The air is sparkling golden
Your mercy power's unloading
