Your silence scares me brings me to my knees and i see now how much i need You here speechless awaiting for the perfect time to show me what my eyes, my eyes can not see now and i'm crying more than trusting that You hold everything in Your strong hands

Oh, cause in my heart i just can't understand bizarre silent times oh i wait for a plan we've danced around this tree before but every time we stop oh, the akward silence brings me to the floor

My mind begins to wander from all that You've said i begin to try my despair about that time You pulled me out to show me what was really there and the music starts again and i'm learning how to trust You i follow in Your shadow's cast until i stop again

but everytime we stop oh, the awkard silence brings
me to the floor

And i'm learning how to trust You i follow in your shadow's dance until i stop again

bizarre silent times oh, I wait for a plan we danced around this tree before
me
