Things are getting clearer now like water like healing
Time is moving everything faster
Than I've ever felt before
And tears are like flowers
Pulled up by the sun
Feeling like a coward
Under my own gun

And the mystery the mystery of
When the wind falls through places such as stone
Similar to flesh sometimes
When the water is scarce
And your tongue is so dry
And you're looking so scared
But then you know why
Because it comes down like it knows who
And where you are
So you cry

Healing waters come on down
Healing waters come on down
And the moonlight touches it's brother
And darling does it have to end with two Because someone's undercover
And they're staring hard at you
And they want to be discovered
Want to know what's true
Can you run like you know who
And where they are
So they cry

Healing waters come on down
Healing waters come on down
Keep holding on Giving out the best that you can give Sometimes we're not that strong
Keep praying for the healing
Don't give in
Don't give in

And tears are like flowers
Pulled up by the sun
Feeling like a coward
And tears are like flowers
Under my own gun

Healing waters
(You're not in this alone)
Cleansing waters
(You're not in this alone)
Healing waters
Cleansing waters
(You're not in this alone)
