i fall into my heart's fire and feel a chilly wind full of emptiness and i see my weakness stealing my hope to carry on this grief within me

don't care if i'm naked with shame put me back under Your flame i've fallen and i am to blame burn this heart clean
i've fallen again

this time will be the last one I've said this a thousand years Lies to just help cope then you came carrying my shame
then i looked through my tears then i felt your pain

i've fallen
again, again, again
