

Sarah Mclachlan

"What Lies Beyond"

Visit "What Lies Beyond" on MotoLyrics.com

All of my life I've had a longing for knowledge, and all which lets my thoughts be free.
Duties for which I'm destined seem to haunt me, confusing all I really want to be-

And I see you again and I know it's true,
The dreams that have left me cold and once again
Together we'll find the strength to make love real.
Because I wanted to do what I know is true,
my thoughts leave me on a lonely sea somewhere-the waves of what lies beyond us now.

Though I see you again and I know it's true,
My dreams that have left me cold and once again

Together we'll find the strength to make love real.
Because I wanted to do what I know is true
My thoughts lead me on own, the sea one way,
The waves of what lies beyond I will follow....

Visit Sarah Mclachlan page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.