Tiptoe around you
Make that smile worth my while
Again is this the end of time
A stranger looked at me today
And now I turn my head
Is it easier for me to walk that way

And now I lose myself
'Cause I don't know who to be
Nothing's what it seems

What if I told you I was seven storeys high
Would you even reach for me
Keep pulling me back
Pulling me back from
All the things we used to be
Moments gone too easily
Never know it's hard to keep you
Pulling me back, pulling me back from you
So how do I make you

Two hands up I admit
I'm still waiting for you
To open up and let me in
I'll run your race to the end
I've got my running shoes on
Tell me where the start begins

And now I lose myself
'Cause I don't know where to be
Nothing's what it seems

What if I told you I was seven storeys high
Would you even reach for me
Keep pulling me back
Pulling me back from
All the things we used to be
Moments gone too easily
Never know it's hard to keep you
Pulling me back, pulling me back from you
So how do I make you

'Cause you say what you say
And you do what you do
And that's the last thing I would do

What if I told you I was seven storeys high
Would you even reach for me
Keep pulling me back
Pulling me back from
All the things we used to be
Moments gone too easily
Never know it's hard to keep you
Pulling me back, pulling me back from you
So how do I make you
If I can't break through
