Where does a little boy go after he leaves his carefree life

Where does a little boy go he's a young man a looking for a wife

Where does a young man go with a woman and a family that really cares

Where does a young man go he goes suddenly to some silver in his hair

Where does the silver hair go when this grownup man has settled in his ways

Where does the silver hair go it just turns right into yesterdays

Where did those yesterdays go they just seemed to disappear into the past

Where did those yesterdays go they turned into memories so very fast

Where does a memory go will it stay around to last and to enjoy

Where does a memory go there'll be memories as long as there's our little boys

Where does a little boy go
