This isn't a way to be a martyr, to manifest my pain Maybe it's one of life's great demands, to go down the drain
No one told me it would be self-destructive just to care
One thing this fucking world will never be is; fair

See the light in the end of the pipe
Enter the realms of suicide paradise
Dead is the value of your name
The vanity of living is your pain

Can't hold the rage when the truth is she'd Mission naïve; saving a world that's already dead
Consumed democracy returns a socialist regime
Political correctness, makes you see what to believe
Religion, media, politics streaming...
Schizoid world orders screaming!

See the light in the end of the pipe
Enter the realms of suicide paradise
Dead is the value of your name
The vanity of living is your pain

[Lead: Marcus Lundberg]

A perception of incompetence; the blind leading insanity
Exhausted by frustrations, it leads to complete anarchy Insecurity for social hierarchy drives reason to extremes
All that's left of value; is to die a painful death, it seems
Religion, media, politics streaming...
Schizoid world orders screaming!
